Preface

Dear reader,

this booklet is a short illustration of our work during the school year. For us to keep as a memory of our English studies and for everyone around to enjoy :-)

This year was unusual due to the lockdown. The virus made us learn on-line from our homes but we tried our best and didn't give up this book project either.

Hope you will like it.

Magical forest

Natálie A.

I went to walk my dog one day. We were on a meadow not so far from our house. Next to the meadow was a forest. A hare was running there. My dog Kimi wanted to play with him. The hare ran into the forest and Kimi too. I went to the forest as well, but I was scared. In the forest there were a lot of animals. There were deer, squirrels, owls, foxes, raccoons, mice, frogs and hedgehogs. It was a beautiful forest and it was a magical forest. The forest was nice, but I couldn't find my dog.

Suddenly I heard some noise. It was a hedgehog. He spoke to me. I could not believe it. The hedgehog told me: "I saw your dog, he ran this way" and pointed to the right. So, I went to the right. I talked with the hedgehog and he told me that his name was Tony. Tony wasn't a common hedgehog, he was white. I really wanted to take him home. I heard some noise again. I went there and I saw Kimi! He could talk. He told me: "I'm so cold and hungry." So, I went home with Kimi and Tony.

When we were at home, Kimi could not speak any more and Tony could not speak either. The forest was really magical.

After tea, we went for a walk and came to a castle. It was a ruin of the castle. She led me to one place. There were bushes and behind them I saw an old door. She opened the door and she went through the door. There she disappeared. I was scared and followed her. We appeared in a beautiful garden with many paths, lakes, plants, trees, flowers, and a big fountain. I have never seen such a beautiful place! I found out that the door wasn't ordinary. The end

Beacause he believed

Anna A.

There was once a magician. He was sad, because he was awkward and therefore his magic tricks were bad, so the viewers did not enjoy them. He was sitting on the street, not knowing where to go.

Suddenly a little girl appeared in front of him with a small toy magic wand in her hand and a children's witch's hat on her head.

"I want to be a magician," she said, "like you!"

"I'm not a magician," he said sadly, "I'm only a fiddler!"

"That's not true!" said the girl.

The magician became angry. "You do not know me! Let me be!

Follow your mom!" the magician shouted.

Then he regretted it. He liked children and he didn't want to make the girl cry. But the girl was calm. The magician was ashamed.

"Sorry," he whispered.

"You are sad," the girl said.

"Yes, of course! I'm so awkward that nobody wants to look at me!

I'm lost," the magician said unhappily.

"That's why I'm here," whispered the girl.

"What? Because I'm lost?" the magician wondered.

"No! Because you are not lost."

The magician saw that the little girl reached out to him, holding a children's magic wand. "Take her," she said, "and have her with all your magic tricks! It will help you!"

The magician wasn't sure.

"Believe me!" whispered the girl. He did not know what else to do, so he believed the girl and took the wand.

Over the next few days, the magician did great. People liked him and he was happy.

He was once cheerfully walking down the street from one of his magic shows when he saw a lady and stopped. She reminded him of someone! But who? He found the answer when he looked a little lower. There was the little girl, a little older than when he had last seen her. He waited for her mother to go to the store and then came to the little girl.

"Please tell me: What's the secret of that great magic wand?" he asked her.

The little girl smiled.

"There's nothing mysterious about that wand," she said. "It's a very ordinary children's wand. But you believed! You believed it was magical. That's why you're doing so well with it."

How the little girl won the fight with the sea

Anna A.

One day, a little girl called Rose with her dad set off on a boat. Her dad wanted to teach his daughter to use the boat, but suddenly a big storm started. Dad wanted to protect Rose, who was on the other side of the boat. But when he tried to get to her in the rain and wind, he fell into the cold water. Rose cried because she was unable to help her father. Dad disappeared under the water, but Rose didn't see that. She was exhausted. But Rose never gives up. So she fought against the stormy sea on the boat. The waves were moving her boat back and forth, and the wind was raging. But suddenly, she saw the coast! When she reached the coast, she passed out. The last thing she saw were the lights of the Coast Guard.

Magic pen

Karel K.

His name is Mark Clarke. He lives in a small town near a river.

Mark works in an office in Prague. He was born in America, but now he lives in the Czech Republic. He is 35 years old.

One day, Mark went shopping and saw an old woman. She was standing next to the market. He went to her and saw a special pen.

Mark asked: "Are you selling this pen?"

"Yes," answered the old woman. "But it is expensive," she said.

"How much does it cost?" asked Mark.

„It costs 500 crowns.“

"Oh, what can it do?" he asked.

"It can't write, but it can make your wishes come true," she whispered.

"OK, I will buy it." He gave her 500 crowns.

"When you go to sleep and you have a wish, you must say this to the pen: Dear pen, I am a good man, I've got one wish. And then you must say the wish, it must be a thing. When you get up, look near your bed."

Mark thanked her and instead of going shopping, he went home.

It was Sunday, so he wasn't at work. In the evening he said to his pen: "Dear pen, I am a good man, I've got one wish. I want a new bag."

He couldn't sleep. He fell asleep at midnight.

When he woke up, he saw a new bag near his bed. Mark was surprised.

"It works!" he shouted.

After breakfast he put his pen into his new bag. He went to the garage, sat into his car and drove to Prague. He went to his office and turned on the computer. All the day he looked at the magic pen, so he didn't do any work. When he looked at the time, he drove home, because it was six o'clock. He was tired, so he went to bed.

When he woke up in the morning, he said: "Oh no, where is my magic pen!?" He remembered. He forgot it on the table in his office. He sat into his car and quickly drove to Prague. But he was in his pyjamas! Everyone looked at him like he was an idiot. He ran up the stairs to his office. He looked at the table. The magic pen wasn't there! When he looked at himself in the mirror, he was a freak. He ran downstairs and he met his boss, Mr. John Ralph. Mark bumped into him. They fell on the floor. Mark saw his magic pen. It was next to his boss and it was broken. It probably fell out of his boss's pocket, thought Mark Clarke. He was angry. He grabbed the two pieces of the magic pen and ran to his car.

When he arrived home, he watched TV. Before he went to bed, he said to the pen: "Dear pen, I am a good man, I've got one wish, I want a new television."

When he woke up, he looked near his bed. There was nothing. He shouted: "It isn't working!" He grabbed the magic pen and put it into the bin. But it wasn't the right pen. The right pen was in his office under the table. The cleaning woman threw it into a bin in Mark's office. So the right pen is now in Mark's office inside the bin.

Suddenly, they crashed onto an Island. When the storm ended, they went to the Island. They saw some people. They weren't canibals. They were saved! The people helped them with Lord Martinez's ship. Together, they repaired it. The sailors thanked them and went back to Spain.

The ghost

Karolína L.

One day, in the afternoon, a girl called Marry and a boy named John went on a trip. They found an old mysterious castle. The castle was very scary so they were shocked, but their curiosity won and they went there. They walked to the castle and reached for the handle. The door opened before they opened it. Marry walked inside first. Then John came to Marry: "I don't think this is a good idea, Marry," said John quietly.

They saw some stairs on the left. Marry and John went downstairs. When they were in the small room, they were terrified! There was a ghost hanging on a big locked chain. The ghost was crying!

"Umm... Good afternoon, Mr. Ghost," said John with tears in his eyes. Marry looked at John and then at the ghost.

"Hello, Mr. Ghost, why are you... hanging on this big chain, and why is it locked?" asked Marry and stepped closer to the ghost.

"I am here because I broke the rule! And now I'm locked!" said the ghost loudly and started crying again.

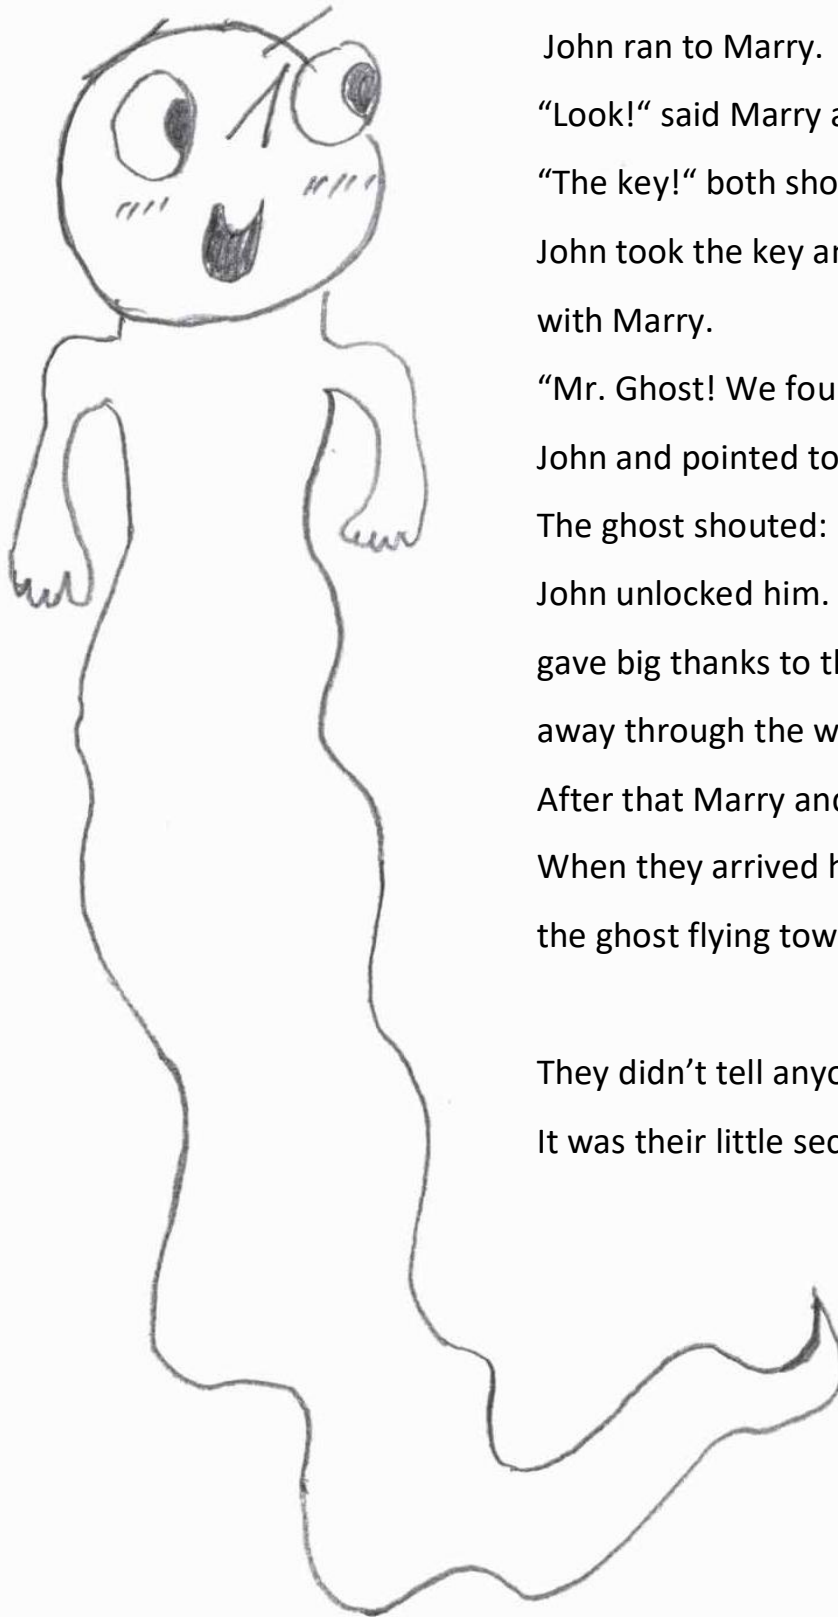

John looked at Marry and Marry looked at John.

"Is there anything we could do for you, Mr. Ghost?" asked John.

"You can find the key for me," said the ghost and looked at John. „The key is hidden very well, you won't probably find it," he added and looked at the chain.

"We will find it, don't worry!" said Marry and grabbed John's hand. Marry dragged John upstairs.

“Go and look right and I’m going to look left,” said Marry to John. And they split. After an hour Marry found a big wooden box.

“I think I found it John!” Marry shouted.

John ran to Marry.

“Look!” said Marry and opened the box.

“The key!” both shouted.

John took the key and ran downstairs with Marry.

“Mr. Ghost! We found the key!” shouted John and pointed to the key in his hand.

The ghost shouted: “Hurray!!”

John unlocked him. The ghost gave big thanks to them and flew away through the window.

After that Marry and John went home.

When they arrived home, they saw the ghost flying towards the moon.

They didn’t tell anyone about this.

It was their little secret.

My cat

Mary P.

On Wednesday afternoon I played with my cat Julie in our garden. I was very thirsty so I went home for some water, but when I came back, my cat was not there. I shouted her name many times but my cat didn't arrive. Neither during the night, nor in the morning. I am very sad, because I love her. I decided to advertise in the newspaper.

Julie is a big grey cat.
She is one year old.
If you see my cat,
please call my phone
number 775677162.
Thank you very much.
If you find her,
you will get a reward.

I thank everyone who will join the search for my cat.

Was it a wizard?

Lucy Š.

*Judy Suppo used to go to school, she used to do normal things.
Once she saw a strange thing and everything started to be different...*

Hi there!

My name is Judy. Judy Suppo. I know, this surname is very strange, but what can I do? ☺ I hate my nickname, because it is SUPPORTER. So at school, I don't use the signature J. Suppo, but I draw this:
My teachers learnt that this picture is the signature of Judy Suppo. Sometimes they forget and call me Supporter. I don't care, because one strange thing happened.

My nickname started to be normal, like normal names. Nobody knows, for example, that Lucy means light. And THIS thing happened with my nickname. It is starting to be a normal name!

Hooray!!! But...

Yesterday, I saw a VERY strange man in our garden. Not as strange as my surname, but much stranger.

I'm not joking! And if you expect some criminals, you're wrong! Those men were... I am trying to find a more suitable word, but strange is the best. And... nice. Yes, it can sound different from what you were expecting, but when I saw them, I couldn't think they were evil. I was sure that they were nice.

The taller man had brown hair, the most ordinary colour you can find, with the most ordinary hairstyle. He had a long, midnight blue, velvety cloak reaching the ground, and under the cloak he had a gray, flowing DRESS. The dress was tied up with a coarse rope at the waist.

No, I'm not joking! Don't make me angry about it again! You're so annoying! Why am I telling you this story?!

Never mind. The wind blew a little and the taller man's, light dress flew in the wind. He turned right, so he could perfectly see throw my window, then he pointed to me, and quietly said something to the other man, who looked like his supporter (he was dressed in leather armour)...

... and then I passed out and woke up in hospital. I was thinking normally, but I couldn't say a normal sentence. So my family put me into a madhouse, because they thought I was crazy.

I want to go to school, I want to do normal things, but I can't. What should I do? Luckily I can write...

But... I have a feeling that it doesn't end here...

I think I'm a striped human

Lucy Š.

Welcome in Strangews! Today we are going to read this story. It's about a Striped Bug Licu.

I have an atypical pet, a striped bug. Its name is Licu.

Its home is a dill's umbel. When the dill is still green, not brown, I can perfectly see it.

When I come, it always waves to me.

One day, I didn't see its waving. I searched all the dill, but I didn't find it. I was very unhappy. I thought it had been kidnapped, but after a month I got a letter.

In the letter I read:

Hello!

You must be worrying about me. But I've only found a new dill.

Licu

And after another month I got another letter:

Hello again!

One day, I saw some strange light, and then I found out I was a human! My name is now Joyce Walli. Visit me, please. On address: Petsserie, 19, Striped Avenue.

All my neighbors used to be Striped Bugs!!! It's incredible, isn't it?

Joyce

And Petsserie really exists and in Striped Avenue really lives Joyce Walli...

Frank looked like a hippo

David S.

Frank used to be vegetarian. But one day he saw an exciting hamburger with delicious meat. He tried to go home but the burger was charming him. After five minutes he ate the burger and he was very happy. His friends asked him why he wasn't a vegetarian any more. Frank didn't know. His daily routine was this: for breakfast he had fish and chips, for lunch he had a hamburger and for dinner he had a plate of chicken legs. He loved it. Suddenly he had two hundred kilos and he looked like a hippo. Everyone laughed at him.

He was sad. He was revengeful. He started doing exercise. After six months he was back to normal. He looked like before eating unhealthy food. Everyone who laughed at him was now really excited about what he did to be thin. Frank was very happy.

Kidnapping – my kitten Charlie

David S.

Hello I'm Frank I'm ten. I have a kitten called Charlie. One day he was kidnapped.

I don't know why, but suddenly I remembered he was a very expensive cat. After this I ran to the police station.

They told me: "Keep calm, we'll find him."

After two weeks he was still lost. I was very nervous. I couldn't wait. I went outside and was questioning people if they hadn't seen him. But nobody had seen anything.

I was sad, but one day I met a man. He was homeless. He talked to me and said that he had seen a young man who had a cat in a cage. On the cage there was an inscription FOR SALE and a phone number. The homeless man wrote it down.

I ran home and phoned the number. The man wanted one hundred euros. I drew one hundred on a piece of paper and gave it to him. The stupid man gave me my cat in the cage and I ran home happily.

Hedgehogman – problems with Foodkiller

Michal P.

Hedgehogman used to go to the park. The superhero (Hedgehogman) used to relax there, walk and feed the ducks. Now everything was different. Anthony (Hedgehogman) couldn't go there, because a villain called Foodkiller destroyed the park. Anthony wanted to know who did it and why, so he started asking people if they didn't know who destroyed the park. It was useless, people didn't know anything - maybe because Foodkiller was in the city for the first time and nobody knew or saw him. That was a big problem about our villain destroyer.

After weeks of worrying, searching and almost no sleep, Anthony finally got an idea and set a trap for the bad guy. The Trap: Because the Foodkiller liked destroying, Anthony wrote in the newspaper (because he works there) that he was going to build a statue of something to lure him there and catch him. The Trap was a success and Foodkiller went to the international jail in New York.

After catching Foodkiller, Anthony has got time to sleep now.

Captain Frank

and the war with Mars

Lukáš P.

Frank used to be a captain in the war with Mars, but now everything changed. He lost the war and he was a prisoner on Mars in a small room in the middle of a Mars base.

He decided to complete the war and he snatched some unknown material from his bed and broke open the door. Frank triggered the alarm and ran to the armoury room. He beat the guard and he went into the room. He took a laser gun and a laser shield and he ran to the hangar for a cosmic fighter. He had to kill lots of the Martians. One of the Martians called Čubahuba joined him and they ran on. They took two cosmic fighters to fly to the Earth and save more people. When they departed, the Martians shot down Čubahuba, but Frank escaped from Mars.

Frank trained a group of people and they went to attack Mars. After a big war, Frank and his team won. Thereby he became the hero of the Earth.

The kidnapped kitty

Evelina Š.

My kitty was kidnapped. It happened when me and my family went on a trip. Before, I told my mom we must be home with our kitten but mom said that she was old enough to stay in our garden by herself.

When we went back home, she wasn't there. So we were looking for her everywhere and we asked our neighbours. No one saw her so we went back home. Later, someone was calling my mom.

She picked it up and the guy who was calling her said that he had our kitten.

"If you don't give me $10 000, I won't give you your kitten back," he said.

My mom called the police and they found him by his telephone number. He paid a fine to them. And they gave us our kitty.

I'm so glad she's back!

The little story about the big alien

Vlastimil K.

One day an enormous part of Apollo 11 landed on Sahara in Africa.

A week later a small caravan passed there and a little girl found the wreck.

Suddenly a big tentacle picked her ten metres up. She screamed but nobody heard her, she was too far away.

And then the tentacle pulled her down because his owner was curious what this was. It wasn't anybody like people on his planet. No, it was really weird, with two legs and two arms.

It was a human.

“Never seen these,” thought the Kalarian.

But then they became friends and lived in peace.

The old telephone

Lukáš S.

I woke up suddenly and looked at the clock. This time I must be at work! I brush my teeth really quick, bring some food and run out of my house. Then I rush to the bus station and watch the breakdown.

Next bus will arrive in ten minutes. I eat my breakfast and my bus arrives. When I get out of the bus, I realize I don't have my phone. So I wait for the next bus and go all the way back. When I run to my house, the door is open.

I call the police and they arrive very quickly. They try to find the thief. But he has run away. I realize I must go to work so I go to my phone and I look at it. It can't be true, I say.

My phone is gone and the thief has changed it for an old crumbling phone. It is terrible. But my hope will never die so I grab my 'new' phone and run to the bus station, wait for my bus and go to work.

When I arrive, all the employees are going home. They are asking me where I was. I explain to them my story. When I've done that, I go to my boss and explain to him too. But he slaps me and says I must be there the whole night and do my work.

Also he shouts at me really loudly: "You are a terrible worker."

He shouts again and again.

I say: "But I will show you what I have." (I show him my new terrible phone).

"Ohhhhhh, that is awesome. Can I buy it from you?" my boss says.

I say: "Yes, what about the price?"

He says: "What do you want?"

I ask for 100000000000000000 dollars and he says: "OK, I will buy it."

So now I am a millionaire and I can stay at home forever and I don't have to go to work and stay there late.
